

Fiction Writers Workshop Series

Do you have an idea for a novel?
Are you stuck on how to get your ideas on paper?

Would you like to perfect your craft?
Want to see your publishing dreams realized?

Writing is both an art and a science. The art comes from you. The science comes from the well-established literary world. In order to attract the attention of agents and editors and satisfy the appetite of your readers, there are some skills you need to master.

In this 4-session intensive program, you will learn:

- To develop your story and structure your plot
- To write using various points of view
- To develop interesting characters
- To write compelling dialogue
- To create dynamic scenes
- To deepen your writing using emotion, tension and conflict
- To conquer spelling, grammar & punctuation

Whether you plan to self-publish or hire an agent to seek a traditional publishing contract, the quality of your writing matters.

When: February 2 & 16, March 2 & 16 - Bonus March 30

Where: Hawley Public Library | 103 Main St | Hawley, PA
